

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND IT.

This medicine, combining Iron with pure vegetable tonics, quickly and completely cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, Impure Blood, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, and Neuralgia.

It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.

It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives. It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do. It enriches and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, relieves Heartburn and Belching, and strengthens the muscles and nerves.

For Intermittent Fevers, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc., it has no equal.

The genuine has above trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other.

Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

IN THE CYCLONE'S GRASP.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION AT MOUNT VERNON, ILLINOIS.

About Half of the Village is Razed to the Ground Sunday Afternoon—Twenty-Seven Known to Be Dead—Over Two Hundred and Fifty Injured and Missing. Mr. VERNON, Ills., Feb. 21.—This city presents a distressing appearance. Ruin and desolation present themselves on all sides. The number of persons killed or injured has not yet been ascertained. The business part of the town known as the Square, is very badly wrecked, on the east side of the Square not a single building is left.

THE CYCLONE'S WORK.

The cyclone, which appeared at 4:45 Sunday afternoon, came from the northwest, and leveled at least half of the houses in the city. To add to the horror, fire broke out, and, assisted by the strong winds, was soon beyond the control of the firemen. In some cases whole families were buried beneath the debris of their own home. Men, women and children struggled together in their efforts to escape, or to assist in the rescue of those who had been caught by the falling houses, and buried beneath timbers, bricks, etc.

The following are among the business houses wrecked:
J. Marian, saloon; J. Hiserman, bakery; Jonner & Company, blacksmith; C. D. Cook, drug store; R. A. Perry, hotel; the Johnson building, in which was the large dry goods store of Rethers, Waters & Company, a meat shop and drug store; H. Williams, dry goods store; Ferguson, harness shop; J. J. Gray, saloon; Sexton, shoe store; G. W. Yost, general merchant; S. H. Watson, building; J. F. Watson, building; Howard Brothers & Company, groceries; J. W. Evans' bank; G. W. Morgan's building and grocery store; J. Powell's furniture store and house; W. E. Jackson's harness store.

The skating rink is scattered all over town. The Mt. Vernon Milling company's mill is badly damaged.

The wounded and the homeless are being cared for.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad passenger and freight depots and round house were considerably damaged; the freight and master mechanic's offices were wrecked. Two cabooses were blown from the track and turned bottom up.

Engineer Charles Cummings, of Evansville, was instantly killed.

A number of employees and members of their families were more less hurt.

The number of persons killed or injured has not yet been definitely ascertained, but it is variously estimated at from twenty to forty. As far as ascertained, the following is a list of the dead:

John C. Murray.
Mrs. Russell Dewey.
D. F. Yarwood and wife.
Samuel G. Yarwood and wife.
John Yarwood.

Mary Westbrook.
Mrs. John T. Waters and one child.
Henry Waters.

Charles Cummings.
G. W. Parsons, colored.
Mrs. Col. Cooper.

Mrs. William Jones and child.
John Dodson.
Eddie Maxey.

S. J. Waters.
George Pierce.
Mrs. L. F. Legge.

Mrs. Holcomb.
George Purcell.
Miss Josie Sutton.

John Shew.
A blacksmith, name unknown.

As far as ascertained the injured are as follows:

Steve Maxey.
Miss Carrie Hambrick.

J. H. Hambrick and his entire family.
Mr. Van Maxey and seven children.

Mrs. Frank Holcomb.
Mrs. Ida Holcomb.

Mrs. Albright and daughter.
Engineer Lilliecar, dangerously.

Brakeman Kelly, hurt in back.
Telegraph Operator Allen, bruised and cut in the head.

Watchman Sargent, slightly.
Engineer Covington, back, slightly.

Fireman Lansing, slightly.
Lawler E. Legge.

Mrs. Henry Waters.
Miss Laura Lesenby.

Charles Ellis.
Mr. and Mrs. C. Galbraith.

Mrs. Weir.
Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook.

Amanda Bayden.
W. H. Herman.

Lizzie Bennett.
J. C. Hanbrick.

Charles Poole.
Brownlow Hawkins.

Henry Ellis.
Mr. Millercraft.

Joel Howard.
Four men in Evans' bank were imprisoned in the ruins of the building and burned to death. Their cries of pain and distress were agonizing in the extreme, but nothing could reach them. Their names could not be obtained.

In some cases whole families were burned beneath the debris of their homes.

A pathetic incident of the disaster is the fact that the telegraph operator, whose name is Yearwood, has an uncle, aunt and cousin dead in the ruins, and the poor fellow, with his heart bursting with grief, is sitting manfully at his post of duty.

Twenty-seven dead bodies have been taken from the ruins, and 250 are injured and missing.

Conductor Reardon, of the Louisville &

Nashville train, which was caught in the cyclone, tells the following story:

"It was all over in a minute. The thing that most impressed me was the destruction of the county court house, a magnificent three-story brick building. The court house stood in a prominent place, and could easily be seen almost from the tower to the ground. It looked to me as though the huge pile of brick and mortar had been struck by a gigantic battery ram, or if you please, by a big club in the hands of a power strong enough to knock it down at a single blow. It seemed to collapse all at once, spread out, crushed and burying the buildings surrounding it."

NO HOPE FOR HOPKINS.

Motion for a New Trial Overruled—Hopkins Very Ill.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 21.—Judge Sage Saturday evening overruled the motion for a new trial and arrest of judgment in the Hopkins case. The decree was concurred in by Judge Jackson. This removes the last hope of Hopkins and as soon as his health will permit he will be sentenced to the penitentiary. He says, however, that he will never leave the jail alive. The indictment against Eugene Zimmerman was nolleed by Judge Sage upon application of the district attorney.

This morning upon the opening of the United States court, Judge Sage was asked by Assistant District Attorney Bruce to nolle the indictment against Joseph W. Wilshire. Two grounds were assigned: First, that Wilshire gave valuable information without any agreement in the Harper and Hopkins cases, and secondly, that the evidence would not warrant a conviction.

Judge Sage, in passing upon the motion, said that he did not think it was necessary to consider the question whether the evidence would warrant conviction. The only point was whether the testimony given by Wilshire could be set up as a plea in bar.

The court said: "In the Harper case his testimony was very full, and in the opinion of the court true. The court was as well satisfied that this testimony was true as it was that Harper's was perjured from first to last. It is not for the court to direct the mode and conduct of the prosecution."

"The court is of the opinion that a nolle should be entered, not only in this case, but in Miss Holmes' case. They stand upon the same footing."

Mr. Burnett: "We are ready to nolle the indictment of Miss Holmes."

Mr. Hopkins was seen at the jail Saturday and was clothed only in a white shirt and unbuttoned trousers for outer garments. The dropsical complaint which affected him has increased his girth from thirty-six to fifty inches. From a point a few inches below his waistband, up to and including the chest, his body was a pulpy mass of swelling, which rolled and gurgled with every movement of his body. His breath came in quick and short gasps, and his heart beat spasmodically.

"The doctor tells me," said Mr. Hopkins, in a feeble voice, "that only a thin wall of tissue separates my heart from this matter," and he touched the soft swelling, which indented beneath his fingers and then puffed out again like a rubber ball when the finger was removed. "I never expect to leave this jail alive. I am dying, and when I am gone after poor Annie Baldwin, there will be another victim added to E. L. Harper's list. He is to blame for this. He was Arami's murderer, the infamous scoundrel, and he will be mine."

"This thing is terribly painful," and his talk rambled in an incoherent manner for some minutes. "I can eat nothing but liquid food, and only little of that, and I am stifling. I cannot get off my back; cannot even lie on my side. As for being carried down in a litter or in a carriage that is impossible. When I leave this room it will be with a wooden overcoat around me and on the road to Spring Grove."

A report from the grand jury is expected the first part of this week. There are sensational developments looked for in the Metropolitan case.

POORMAN'S SCHOOL BOOK BILL.

The Bill He Will Introduce Decidedly Original.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 21.—Col. Poorman, the veteran representative from Belmont county, is not satisfied with any of the school book bills so far proposed or presented. He has been for some time drafting a school book bill, which he will introduce this week.

It contemplates the formation of a commission consisting of commissioner of common schools, commissioner of public printing and three persons identified with the common school system of the state, who shall advertise for a bill to supply for five years the school books needed. Failing to get satisfactory bids, the commission shall advertise for bids from authors for copy or copyright, printing to be done on contract by lowest bidder, the book then printed to be furnished pupils at cost, plus 3 per cent. for delivery of the books.

The bill also contains a provision that the electors of any township at the spring election may vote for free books, to be delivered without cost except such nominal sum as the school board may fix for the delivery of books to pupils, under such restrictions as to care and loss of books as the school board may fix.

It Was Not Tascott.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 21.—It seems to be settled beyond doubt that Clark, the man who escaped from the city prison a few days ago, is not Tascott, the alleged murderer of Millionaire Snell, of Chicago. A picture of Clark was shown to T. S. Simons, formerly of Chicago, who knew both the Snell and Tascott families. Simons says positively that the picture is not that of Tascott.

A Serious Joke.

NAPOLEON, O., Feb. 21.—All the printers of Napoleon were enjoying a farewell reception tendered Theodore Damman, a type on the Henry County Democrat, on his departure for Columbus. Frank Faust filled a pipe with powder for Compositor Hudson, of the Signal, and an explosion followed which nearly blew Hudson's eyes out. He is in a precarious condition.

Arrested for Counterfeiting.

SOMERSET, Ky., Feb. 21.—Sam. Gragg, a young man residing one mile east of this place, has been arrested for counterfeiting and selling whisky without a license. He will be taken to Louisville for trial.

THAT TRIP TO FLORIDA.

MRS. CLEVELAND LOOKS TO IT WITH A GREAT DEAL OF PLEASURE.

Special Arrangements Made for Speed and Comfort—Savannah the Only Stopping Place—General Sheridan Won't Have the Nomination for President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Mrs. Cleveland is looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the Florida trip. Her fondness for travel and the delightful novelty of a luxurious passage in twenty-four hours from the chilling blasts that sweep from the snow-clad hills about Washington to the soft zephyrs of the land of flowers combine to make the prospective trip a most enjoyable experience.

It will be the first trip to Florida both for the president and Mr. Cleveland. The most elaborate arrangements have been made for the pleasure and comfort of the party. A special car attached to a swift engine will leave from Washington to Jacksonville, while the president does not propose to stop at any cities en route, going or coming, except for an hour or two at Savannah. The special train will be run at any rate of speed desired by the party to enable them to view the country through which they are passing. "I cannot promise," said Senator Call, "that Mrs. Cleveland will have an opportunity of seeing any alligators basking in the sunlight along the banks of the river; much would depend upon the weather, but I am sure if they knew she were coming they would be out in force to greet her."

Mrs. Cleveland has done quite a little shopping during the past week in preparation for her journey, and has rarely missed a day among the avenue stores. Her appearance still attracts as much attention as ever, and while purchasing a light straw "poke" bonnet on Wednesday last, probably to wear on the St. John's river boat, at least a hundred people gathered about the White House carriage waiting for her return. Many of them were strangers in the city, but the majority were Washingtonians.

Fortress Monroe as a Summer Resort.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Indications now point to a very lively spring and summer at Fortress Monroe, Va., the only salt water resort within easy access of the capital. Arrangements are being made to render the old-fashioned accommodations at the fort more in keeping with modern times. It is learned that the old Hygeia hotel is to be renovated, and Mr. John Chamberlain, it is said, will soon be ready to begin work on the site appropriated to him by congress for a large hostelry. In addition there will, after the 25th instant, be a line of Pullman cars run by the Pennsylvania road between Washington and Old Point, via the Chesapeake and Ohio route. These arrangements, if successfully carried out, will supply a want long felt by legislators and others, who are compelled to remain in Washington during the heated term.

This Ought to Settle It.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—In an interview yesterday Gen. Phil. Sheridan made an explicit declaration regarding his presidential candidacy. He said he knew nothing more about the alleged "boom" than he had read in the papers, except that occasionally some friend had twitted him about being a candidate.

"But, suppose the Republican convention should—"

Gen. Sheridan: "Nominate me? I would not accept. But there is not the slightest probability of my being nominated. In any event I would not accept. No, not under any circumstances. I do not want that or any other civil office."

Justice Harlan's Program.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The United States supreme court to-day takes a recess for four weeks. This evening, Justice Harlan will leave for Chicago, where on Wednesday or Thursday, he will give his opinion in the lake front ownership controversy. The opinion is a very lengthy one, and fully considers the numerous and important questions involved. From Chicago, Justice Harlan will go to Indianapolis, where he will hear the application for a writ of error in the cases of Sim. Coy and Bernhamer.

Opposed by Publishers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The bill which recently passed the house increasing the rate of postage upon reprints of novels and other works is being vehemently opposed to-day by representative publishers from many large cities before the senate committee on postoffices and post roads.

DON'T SCARE THE DOCTOR.

Warnings to Leave the Country Meet With Resistance.

TITUSVILLE, Fla., Feb. 21.—A very sensational story comes over the government wire from Enos, a small settlement fifty miles below here. Dr. Enos, a large property owner, after whom the place was named, discovered, one morning last week, a coarsely worded warning written on a planed board nailed to his door, ordering him to leave the place within two weeks, never, to return on pain of death.

It was signed "By the Committee," and had the usual skull and crossbones attached. Several days before this two shots were fired into his house at sundown, the bullets narrowly missing him. The doctor attributed this to sportsmen's careless shooting, and paid no attention to it, but this notice recalled it to his mind.

The reasons assigned are the unpopularity of the doctor, by reason of exaggerated accounts of the settlement and its advantages, improvements, etc., by which many have been induced to go there to move with disappointment. The doctor says he will not move, and has posted a notice under the one left for him that all trespassers are warned off, and that any parties coming there at night with intent to make trouble will do so at their own peril. He goes constantly armed.

LABOR NEWS.

Shoemakers' Lockout at Cincinnati Declared Off—Notes.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 21.—Blacker, Gerstle & Company, claim this morning that they are running in all their departments and that they are satisfied to have the lockout declared off in the factories. The manufacturers generally claim that they can secure enough hands to go to work by noon tomorrow at the latest. The lockedout employees say that nearly all the fitters, lasters, cutters and bottomers stick by them so that the manufacturers will not be able to run their shops even though the lockout is declared off.

The Manufacturers' association have issued the following:

Notice to shoemakers—Messrs. Blacker, Gerstle & Company having announced that their factory is open on running, all other factories belonging to members of Shoe Manufacturers' association are hereby declared open to such of their employees as recognize the authority District Assembly No. 48. And they are hereby requested to report promptly at their various places of employment. For Shoe Manufacturers' association.

"GEORGE STRIBLEY,
"JOSEPH BLACKER,
"C. KRIPPENDORF,

"Executive Committee Shoe Manufacturers' Association."

Should the employees fail to report now the manufacturers declare that their factories must either become free shops or be closed entirely.

The following telegram was received at No. 9 New street this morning:

"Boston, February 19, 1888.

"H. S. Goodenough, Cincinnati:

"Will be on road when you receive this. Will wire when near approach."

"H. J. SKEFFINGTON."

The arrival of Mr. Skeffington, who is master workman of the Shoemakers' National assembly, to whom the shoemakers, many of them, now swear allegiance, is expected by noon to-morrow, and arrangements will be made for a big mass meeting at Music hall at once.

Milwaukee Brewers.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 21.—A meeting at Voorwer's Turner hall, the object of which was to organize the beer brewers who left their union in consequence of the recent action of the Brewers' association, into an independent union, was packed by members of Union No. 9, last night. The notorious Richard Elsner, the secretary of that body, was elected chairman under the assumed name of Putz. All attempts of the organizers of the movement to proceed with business were howled down, and address by H. Kossen, in which Socialistic ideas were criticized, met with such violent opposition that the speaker had to sit down. After an hour's wrangle the meeting broke up in disorder. Kossen was threatened on his way home, but owing to the timely appearance of a police officer, escaped without injury at the hands of the enraged Anarchists.

Starving Laborers.

BILLINGS, Mont., Feb. 21.—A large number of laborers on the defaulting Rocky Fork railroad, who have been fed by county charity, were refused further aid by the authorities Saturday. This left the men in a starving condition and they are compelled to fight for food. The situation is alarming, and violence is feared.

Quickly Returned to Work.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Feb. 21.—Over six thousand Philadelphia & Reading miners in and about this city went to work this morning with glad spirits. Mr. Corbin's gift of $20,000 to the miners has gained him the good will of two-thirds of the strikers in this section.

Good Tidings of Great Joy.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—The Reading Coal and Iron company have forty-five collieries and all are reported in operation this morning except six. General Manager McLeod says it is only a question of a few days when these will also be in operation.

THEY ARE A FIGHTING PEOPLE.

The Venezuelans Will Resist the Encroachment of the English.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—A. M. Satelido, the Venezuelan ex-minister to the United States, arrived in this city yesterday, upon the steamer Caracas, accompanied by a commission from the Venezuelan government to take charge of and bring to Venezuela the remains of their fellow-countryman, Jose Antonio Paez, but it is considered significant that they left Venezuela immediately upon the publication of the announcement of the governor of British Guinea that the British government was about to take possession of and retain by force of arms, if necessary, all of the territory of Venezuela, as far west as the Caroni river.

Ex-minister Satelido said that when the commission left Venezuela, there was some public excitement upon this question, and that if the British government attempts to seize and hold Yurari region, it will have cause to regret it.

"Every man is a fighter there," he added, and the valor and bravery of my people has been shown on many a battle field. Spain knows this to her cost. It would be impossible for any people to hold the Yurari region against the Venezuelan people. The South American republics are bound together by a moral law, and would unite to resist encroachment from abroad upon the territory of any one of them."

The Consul's Opinion.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Juan J. Michelena, Venezuelan consul here, speaking on the subject of the "squating" of England on Venezuelan territory, the richest in gold mines, said yesterday that his government could not resent this illegal invasion by England of its territory until the election, which is now in progress, is concluded.

"But we are a fighting country," he added, "and every man, woman and child has a practical idea of tactics, and I am sure there will be no time lost in beginning warfare after it is settled it must take place."

Vessel Burned at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Capt. James Watts, of the lost ship John S. Berry, with one passenger and thirteen of the crew of that ill-fated vessel, arrived here from Australia Saturday. The John S. Berry was bound from Philadelphia to Hioa, Japan, with oil. When she was off the Australian coast on the night of January 10, a fire broke out on board. The crew made all haste to abandon the doomed vessel. They left her in two boats. The first boat reached the Australian coast after seven days of buffeting with the waves, but the second boat has not yet been heard from.

TUESDAY EVEN'G, FEB. 21, 1888.

THE Rowan County investigation will be resumed at Frankfort to-day.

THE great State of Ohio seems to be in a very bad fix financially. Her total revenues this year amount to $2,800,000 while the estimated expenditures will exceed $3,000,000.

Stock and Crops.

R. C. Chanlor, of Harrison County, raised 5,906 pounds of tobacco on 3½ acres last year and sold at 19 cents—$1,122.14.

Dan Swigert, of Elmendorf Stock Farm, near Lexington, has three stallions and 123 brood mares that are assessed at $55,000.

John McGraw, living near Helena, raised 50,000 pounds of tobacco last season on thirty acres of land, and sold at 17½ cents. He intends putting in sixty acres of tobacco the coming season.

The value of the produce of the four principal brood mares in this county are estimated in value as follows: Beautiful Belle, $92,000; Alma Mater, $61,000; Waterworth, $106,000; Lady Patriot, $102,000.

The Courier-Journal advises farmers to limit their tobacco crop this year to what is a bare average. If this be done, the year of 1888-9 will be another year of high and remunerative prices. Farmers should not be governed by the unprecedented prices of the past season.

Who says it does not pay to breed to good horses? The first colt by Enterprise—out of a mare of doubtful breeding—ever offered at public sale, sold Saturday at the Barton sale at Millersburg for $210, and was resold that day for $235, and it was only halter broke.

In towns of New Jersey the business of raising chickens for broilers has become so systematized that the raisers do not kill and pick their own stock. Slaughter houses are established where men, who do nothing else, murder the chickens in an artistic fashion more cheaply and quickly than any unskilled hands could.

The Ripley Bee says: "We are informed that H. C. Loudon has brought suit in the courts of Adams County, against Jacob Pence for $10,000 damages, resulting from a rumor to the effect that Pence had stated that Loudon was declining to fill contracts for the delivery of various purchases of tobacco in Mason County, Ky., and Brown and Adams counties, Ohio."

Fifty years ago the average weight of beef cattle was 800 pounds; now it is 1,400 pounds. The increase is due mostly to the introduction of pure-bred stock and the more careful breeding, as well as the much better feeding of the stock. It is now as common to have animals weighing 1,900 pounds as it was then to have them weigh 1,200 pounds, and the increase in weight is fully one-third.

Gretna Green Links.

'Squire Massie Beasley, of Aberdeen, has married the following couples since last report:

Fashion's Fancies.

[New York Evening Post.]

The pretty textiles called Neapolitan silk crepelines are very popularly worn for dancing toilets. These are in pompadour patterns, stripes both wide and narrow, and odd hieroglyphics in lilac and white, pink and primrose, olive and pink, or vivid Roman red on cream-white grounds.

These fabrics are made up with Swiss bodices of velvet matched to the color of the figure on the crepeline, with velvet loops and ends at the left side of the tunic. There are long, narrow draperies at the back, overskirts of plain sarab, moire, or velvet the color of the bodice.

THE SOLONS AT FRANKFORT.

Items of Interest Gleaned From the Proceedings of the Legislature.
Notes and Comments.

A bill is pending to incorporate the Ohio River Ferry Company. They have the right to establish a ferry at any point on the river above Newport, Ky. Incorporators: Augustus Honshell, Lewis Hood and Charles L. Brown. Capital stock, $100,000. The company is to begin operations and expend not less than $10,000 within two years.

Mr. Reynolds has introduced a bill to organize and establish a system of public graded schools at Carlisle.

The bill authorizing the Governor to appoint a special Judge to hold court when from any cause the services of the regular Judge cannot be procured passed. So has the bill to fix the boundary between the counties of Mason and Fleming.

Senator Gilbert has introduced an act amendatory of the school tax laws. It provides for a per capita tax of $2, in addition to the valorem tax.

Mr. Needham offered a bill for the protection of school houses and churches in this Commonwealth, prohibiting the sale of liquors within three miles of such institutions outside the limits of any corporate town. In town a thousand feet is the nearest liquor shall be sold.

Representative Needham, of Grant County, has introduced a bill on public morals which "provides that it shall be unlawful for any person to keep any house of ill-fame, assignation or prostitution in this Commonwealth. Offenses are to be punished by a fine of $200 or imprisonment in the county jail not less than three months, or both fine and imprisonment. Every thirty days which such unlawful house is kept is deemed a separate offense. Any person who shall act as agent, solicitor or procuress for any such house is deemed guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary from two to ten years. Persons knowingly renting premises for the unlawful purposes described are liable to a fine of from $250 to $1,000. Persons are enjoined from visiting such unlawful places under penalty of from $50 to $100."

Mr. Needham also introduced a bill which provides "that any person who shall set up for himself or herself or another and keep any bawdy-house, gambling-house or pool-room, or who shall aid or abet in so doing, shall, on indictment and conviction, be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500 or imprisoned in the county jail or work-house not less than one nor more than six months." For a second offense the penalty is to be doubled, and a third offense is to be deemed a felony, punishable by confinement in the penitentiary from one to five years.

The proscribed houses are described minutely. A pool-room within the meaning of this bill is a place where persons assemble to wager or bet on the result of any horse race, base ball game, or test of speed or skill. The pool-room clause does not, however, apply to race tracks during regular race meetings.

It is further provided that a person called to testify shall not be excused from so doing because such testimony may criminate or disgrace the person testifying, and no person other than a keeper of a disorderly house so testifying truthfully shall thereafter be convicted of the offense concerning which he or she has so testified.

A Big Land-Slide on the New Railroad.

A big land-slide occurred last night in the vicinity of Cabin Creek on the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad. Just east of the creek the hill for a distance of three or four hundred yards slipped down upon the road and now covers the track to a depth of from two to four feet. A short distance west of the creek another slip about forty yards long occurred, precipitating telegraph poles and wire upon the track.

Engine No. 17 was caught east of the slip and engine No. 16 was caught between the two, and there they will have to remain for several days.

A force of about sixty hands is engaged in removing the debris and clearing the track.

County Court Proceedings.

Thomas Wells, James H. Sallee, C. L. Sallee and W. W. Willecks qualified as executors of John Heiser with James C. Owens, Mrs. Malvina Sallee and Omar Dodson sureties. S. S. Riley, George Ort and Jacob Miller were appointed appraisers.

The Horse Shoe Turnpike Company filed a petition praying for the enforcement of the law to prevent stock from running at large on its road.

Dress Making.

Misses Amelia B. Wood and Mattie Davis' rooms are on West Court street, second floor, above H. C. Hubbard's. Patronage solicited, work done promptly.

A Daughter of General Thomas Nelson Dead.

Mrs. Mary Nelson Hannegan, wife of Sellman K. Hannegan, died at her home in Washington City last Sunday night, of pleuro-pneumonia. The deceased was a daughter of General Thomas Nelson, of Terre Haute, Ind., and a niece of Mrs. John M. Stockton, of this city. She was quite well known in Maysville, having won many warm friends here while visiting her aunt.

The Enquirer correspondent says: "Mrs. Hannegan was well known in Washington society circles for several years."

Hopper & Murphy's Diamond.

Mr. David Dye, who travels for Mr. E. A. Robinson, cigar manufacturer, was very agreeably surprised on his return from a trip a day or so ago, to learn that he was entitled to the diamond ring and stud given away by Messrs. Hopper & Murphy, jewelers. Mr. Dye received a check for $300 from the firm last evening, preferring the money to the diamond.

The Body of Joseph Schley Found.

The body of Joseph Schley, the deck-hand who was drowned off the towboat Harry Brown at the Fifth ward grade one morning last week, was found this morning about 11 o'clock, by Mr. Ben Cook. The remains were only a few yards from where Schley was last seen. 'Squire Vicroy was sent for to hold an inquest.

SOLD FOR OLD PAPER.

Several Mail Sacks Recovered From a Paper Mill at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 21.—A transaction which was attended by some very suspicious and unusual circumstances has just come to light here, and though the matter involves the personal honesty of some one connected with the city postoffice, it does not appear to have been made the subject of investigation by the local authorities. Some days ago Ramus F. Stuart, a postoffice inspector, made a hasty visit to Brookville, Franklin county, and it soon became known that he was in search of some government property. Going to the paper mill he found thirteen new tie sacks filled with paper which had been sold to the proprietor of the mill by a junk dealer of this city. Stuart demanded that the sacks be surrendered, and this was done, the proprietor remarking:

"Take them if you want to, but I paid for them." The sacks were then taken to the Brookville postoffice and thence returned to this city as registered matter. Each of the thirteen sacks was as good as new, and had apparently been used but a short time. The proprietor of the mill said that he did not purchase the paper of the office here, but from a dealer of this city, and the sacks in which the paper was shipped were paid for by weight, presumably the same as the paper. It is believed that the paper was sold from the postoffice here to the dealer, and if this was the case the sacks were also sold at the same time.

Wholesale Raid on Gamblers.

FINNLEY, O., Feb. 21.—For several months this city has been overrun by gamblers of all shades, characters and conditions, and in nearly every block gambling rooms have been running at full blast day and night, while the corners have been blackaded with shoe string members of the fraternity. Few of the games were square, and the cries of the plucked pigeons became so loud and long that at last the mayor determined to pull all the houses and endeavor to break up the dens. In accordance with this resolve, the police force at an early hour Sunday morning made a descent upon the rooms and succeeded in capturing forty-six of the gentry, all of whom are locked up to await trial or secure bail. The proprietors paid $50 each and soon gained their freedom, and the balance put up security for $750 to await trial. The arrests were totally unexpected, and this action of the authorities has struck the sporting men with consternation.

Some of the "Cusses" of Florida.

The western sky showed red and warm through the trees behind us; the mocking birds were flying this way and that. The air was of that kind that makes you wonder how you ever condescended to breathe any other.

"If it wasn't for the air," said a convalescing consumptive to me the other day, "there ain't a single human being that could endure the cusses of this kind of living."

The speaker was a poor man who had made many sacrifices to come down from the north, and who could not modify or remove any of these "cusses" as a person with money might have done.

When you are out in these woods you cannot sit down. That is, you may sit down if you choose, but I doubt if you will do so a second time if your feet will support you. If you sit on the sand you are instantly tormented with fleas; if you sit on a fallen tree you have red bugs with the fleas. The red bug is of the hue indicated by its name. It harbors much in pine wood, and it might appropriately, so far as its general agreeableness is concerned, be spelled with a different consonant for its first letter. And ticks.—New York Tribune.

The Oath a Chinaman Takes.

In the case of Ah Chuck, before Justice of the Peace Ogden and a jury, on a charge of selling lottery tickets, the justice has formulated an oath for the Chinese witness like the following: "I swear by the Chinese gods, the foreigners' god, the God of heaven and earth, that if I am a liar in this case my head will be cut off the same as this chicken's head is cut off, and that I will be drowned in the ocean and never get back to China," and while repeating the oath the Chinaman held a cleaver in his hand, with which he severed a chicken's head from the body when he had finished the words.—San Francisco Call.

Major Chenoweth is determined to keep none but fresh seed on hand.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

Items of Interest Gleaned From a Copy of the Maysville, Ky., Eagle of 1839.

Some of the Men Who Did Business in This City in the Days Gone By.

There is always a peculiar interest attached to an old copy of a newspaper. It may be ragged and worn, and musty with age, but that only makes its pages all the more entertaining to the reader who seeks to know something of his home in the days gone by.

Judge W. P. Coons has in his possession such a paper. It is a copy of the Maysville Eagle of August, 1839, or rather only a part of the copy, as it is all "tattered and torn" and "ragged and worn," there being but little of its pages left. From what remains of it, however, many items are gleaned. The following will prove of interest:

"Dr. A. Seaton, (late of Boston, Mass.) druggist and apothecary," was then doing business at the corner of Front and Main Cross streets.

George W. Adams advertises that "he will open a commission house in New Orleans, La., the 15th of October, 1839, or earlier, with some experience, having been once connected with the house of Adams, Ford & Co., of Louisville, and subsequently with Adams, Backner & Co., of New Orleans."

Messrs. J. W. Rand and William W. Richeson announce that "the next session of the Maysville Seminary will commence on Monday, the 19th of September." Sheriff Perrine and Mr. Joseph H. Dodson now reside in the building then and for years afterwards known as the Maysville Seminary, and Professor Richeson is the only one mentioned in the paper whom we know to be still living.

R. B. Reynolds was then carrying on the hardware business at No. 20 Front street.

Thomas & Mendell advertise that "two or three potters can have constant employment and the best wages" by calling. An interesting fact in this connection is that the Zanesville, O., Republican is asked to copy the advertisement.

Edward Cox was engaged in the stationery business on Front street somewhere, and all the books he offered for sale were of a religious and temperance character.

J. B. McIlvaine offers "one hundred kegs of pure white lead for sale." Also "one sack of Rio and Havana coffee."

Leach & Dobyns were engaged in the grain and flour business.

H. P. Peers advertises "a quantity of superior family flour, made out of new wheat, just received, for sale at the Eagle Book Store."

J. W. Johnston was engaged in the drug business at No. 10 Market street.

P. L. McAboy, Chairman of the Executive Committee, gives notice that "a meeting of the Northern Kentucky Temperance Union will be held in the city of Maysville on Tuesday, the 27th day of August, 1839, at 11 o'clock." All temperance societies were asked to be fully represented, "as business of vital importance to the cause would be brought before the union."

Joseph How & Co. were running the Murphysville Steam Mill and advertised for 5,000 bushels of wheat.

January, Huston & Co. announce they have received "a quantity of mahogany plank and veneering on consignment from Baltimore, which they offer to cabinet makers in lots lower than has heretofore been purchased." The Lexington Intelligencer and Lexington Observer Reporter are asked to copy their advertisement.

The Kentucky State Lottery was then in full blast and advertised "brilliant and unprecedented schemes for August." D. Carrell was the agent in this city, his office being "two doors below Bayless & Coburn's."

Drusilla Bowman, Samuel Bowman and Elijah Pence, of Adams County, O., advertise a reward of $300 for the apprehension of Lemuel Glascock for the murder of Drusilla's husband, Nathan Bowman. The murder was committed in Adams County on the 20th of June, that year, and was done in "the most deliberate and brutal manner."

Abner Hord, as commissioner in the suit of Edward Hord's heirs against David Lindsay, advertises for sale a farm of 147½ acres on Mill Creek. Also a lot 41 by 66 feet on corner of Third and Main Cross streets—at upper end of the market house in this city.

John Armstrong & Co. were among Maysville's leading drygoods merchants at that time.

Thomas Small, executor of Wm. McDonald, advertises that he will sell a lot of personality "on the 12th of September, 1839, at deceased's late residence three miles west of Mayslick."

Isalah Thompson was prepared "to do weaving of different descriptions in a workmanlike manner, on short notice," at Washington.

Walker Reed announces that he will, on next County Court day—second Monday of September, 1839—sell a lot of horses and mules at the town lot of Mr. Nelson in Washington.

Announcement is made that "the Maysville races will commence Tuesday, September the 3rd, and continue five days." A match race was advertised for the fifth day "between James Simpson's brown colt, 2-year-old, by Sumpter, and B. Kirk's brown filly, 2-year-old, by Imported Sarpedon, mile heats, $100 a side." The purses ranged from $100 to $700 on other days. W. J. Stratton was proprietor of the grounds.

Ranson & DeHaven were in the wholesale and retail grocery business at No. 16 Sutton street.

Nicholson & Cooper were carrying on the tin, sheet-iron and stone ware business at "No. 21 Sutton street, opposite the Eagle Book Store."

Charles B. Ryan was in the insurance business "on Main Cross street, west side a few doors above Front," and represented "the Lexington Life, Fire and Marine Insurance Company, capital $300,000."

A notice is given of the "White Sulphur & Chalybeate Springs, of Lewis County"—known now as Esculapia Springs.

Wm. Ficklen was engaged in the grocery and seed business.

Miss D. Bartholts, from Baltimore, announce that "they will on Monday, Sept. 22nd, 1839, open a seminary for young ladies, in the brick house of Mrs. Coburn, 'a few doors above the Eagle Tavern.' References given: Rev. R. C. Grundy, Rev. N. N. Cowgill, A. M. January, R. L. Nelson, James C. Coleman, Dr. W. R. Wood and L. Collins.

C. Shultz, President, announces that contracts have been made for the construction of the Mason & Bracken turnpike, and calls upon stockholders for their subscriptions. M. Markland was Treasurer and he could be "found at all times at the Maysville Insurance Company's office."

James Clarke was in the dry goods business at No. 10 Front street.

James H. McClung and H. Taylor, and Wm. M. Paxton and James H. Baldwin were practicing law out at Washington.

Morris A. Hutchins advertises 160,000 white pine shingles for sale.

Dr. Nelson was practicing at Washington and Dr. T. H. Fox had just located at Orangeburg.

E. Tureman was in the cigar business at No. 12 Market, and S. L. Blaine & Co. were in the wool business on Front, one door west of Market. Wm. R. Wood had a drug store on Front street. Biggers & Clements, merchant tailors, had a stand at No. 6 Front street. W. & N. Poyntz were in the salt and commission business.

Lewis Jacobs & Co. were running a plow factory and foundry at "upper end of Third street."

Under the head of "negroes wanted," George Peyton and Wm. H. Peck, of Washington, advertise that they will pay cash "for likely young negroes of both sexes—those from 12 to 25 years old preferred." Mr. Knight, of Louisiana, also advertised that he would pay cash for six or seven negro men.

W. E. Gayle advertises, Fox Springs, Fleming County, as "fountains of health."

A notice is given of the National Anti-Slavery Convention, held at Albany, New York, at which twelve States were represented, and at which the following were among the resolutions adopted.

Resolved, That we will neither vote for, nor support the election of any man for President or Vice President of the United States, or for Governor or Lieutenant Governor, or for any Legislative office, who is not in favor of the immediate ABOLITION OF SLAVERY.

Resolved, That every Abolitionist who has a right to vote be earnestly entreated to lose no opportunity to carry his abolition principles to the polls, and thereby cause our petitions to be heard through the medium of the BALLOT BOX.

Newspapers had trouble with some of their subscribers in those days as well as they do now, as is evidenced by the following:

The Steubenville Herald says: A subscriber who has been patronizing us for nearly ten years without paying, and whose lovely wife, not long since, broom-sticked our collector out of the house for presenting the bill, wanted to know of us last week why we stopped his paper.

The Sardis Select and Graded School will resume work in Arcade Hall, Monday, February 27th. The ensuing term will continue four months. German taught daily by Professor Wm. Suetze; music by Miss Carrie Dye. Professor W. R. Chandler, Principal. f18d3t

DEKALB LODGE No. 12, I. O. O. F., will have work in the Initiatory Degree at the meeting to-night. A grandfather, father and son will be present—something that rarely occurs in a secret order.

SAM SMITH left last night for Chicago to spend a few days with his sister, Mrs. John D. Tash, after which he will go to New York, where he has secured a situation with a large wall-paper house.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

A RUMOR OF WHAT RUSSIA WILL SHORTLY DEMAND.

She Will Claim Ferdinand's Election as Prince of Bulgaria Be Illegal—If War Is Declared It Will Be the Severest Since Napoleon's Wars—Foreign News Notes.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—It is semi-officially announced that Russia will shortly request the signers of the Berlin treaty to notify the prince that the election of Prince Ferdinand as prince of Bulgaria was illegal. The treaty of Berlin made provision for the election of but one prince. That one was Alexander, and he abdicated.

The treaty provides that before the election of the prince "an assembly of the notables of Bulgaria shall prepare, before the election of the prince, the plan of government of the principality." The prince should be chosen by "the population" and "confirmed by the sublime porte with the assent of the powers." It is assumed that there has been no formal assent of the powers to the choice of Prince Ferdinand of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, nor was there any assembly of notables to fix the plan of government. It was this in which the czar wished to have a hand.

The demand made by Russia involves the occupation of Bulgaria by Russian troops until a government is established to the czar's satisfaction; that is, until Bulgaria and its little army is under his control. Should this demand be granted, which is not at all probable, even in a modified form, or should Russia be able to compel it with the army she is assembling to back her demand, most momentous results would follow in a few years. With the Balkan passes and the Bulgarian fortresses on the Danube in her possession, not only would she go to Constantinople on dress parade, but Austro-Hungary would cease to be a kingdom. The eastern Slavic portion of the kingdom would fall under Russian sway almost without any effort at acquisition. The Czechs of Bohemia, the Hungarians and Poles would all facilitate disintegration.

Russia once firmly fixed in Bulgaria, in a few years she would become the supreme arbiter of Europe. The share of German states, which would fall to Germany by Austria's dissolution, would be no equivalent for Russian domination.

The dispatches say a plan of campaign has been agreed upon by the allies, and that three armies will co-operate against Russia. The first, four corps under Prince William; the second, the Saxon contingent, and the Austrian troops now in Galicia and Bohemia under the king of Saxony, and the third, the bulk of the Austrian and Hungarian troops under Archduke Albrecht.

Italy is concentrating her naval force at three centers, Messina, Tarrinote and Madalena. The last named, on the coast of Sardinia, is being manned with Krupp guns as a naval rendezvous in operations against the coast of France in the event she becomes a belligerent.

The German military experts now estimate the number of Russian troops on the Galician and Roumanian frontiers at 800,000.

If war is declared it will be the severest contest Europe has witnessed since Napoleon's wars. The czar is now the firebrand of Europe, as Napoleon predicted.

The Russian military councils terminated on Wednesday last, and on Thursday the czar gave a parting reception to the generals commanding divisions on the frontier of Galicia and Roumania.

Gens. Gourko, Raditski, Drentelu and Roop, with the chiefs of artillery and engineers, continued the councils until today, when the czar gave them a final audience.

Bismark Knows Russia's Demands.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—It is an open secret in political circles here that Count Schouvaloff has informed Bismark of the character and extent of Russia's demands in regard to Bulgaria. The czar asks substantially the control of Bulgaria.

The present government of Prince Ferdinand is to be overturned and a new sovereign to be elected under the supervision of a joint Russian and Turkish commission. It is rumored that Bismark has urged Count Schouvaloff to use his influence with his government to prevent the proposition being presented to the Austrian government, which, by reason of their impossible nature, would reject them without discussion.

Severe Snow in England.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—A snow storm prevails throughout the United Kingdom. The storm is of unusual severity. Reports from there say the weather is intensely cold and the railroads are completely blocked. Much suffering is reported among the farmers and several deaths from exposure have occurred. Thousands of sheep in the pens are buried in the snow.

Activity in French Armies.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The Temps says that extreme activity prevails at all of the French armies, and that a fighting fleet is being fitted for active service. In a few days, it says, the state of the naval stores will be far better than at the beginning of the year.

England's Views.

VIENNA, Feb. 21.—The Pesther Lloyd's assert that a memorandum of England's views on the eastern question has been sent to Austria and Italy, and that England's views are found to be identical with those of Austria and Italy.

The Crown Prince.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The Daily News correspondent at San Remo, says: "The doctors are puzzled and anxious. Unless a favorable turn soon occurs new complications are likely to ensue."

Foreign Notes.

The condition of the crown prince is still uncertain.

The Gladstone party has been showing encouraging gains in a few late elections. The porte complains to Russia that Austria is not protecting the sultan's subjects in Bosnia and Herzegovina, and asks that those provinces be again placed under Turkish administration.

Has He the Nerve to Exercise It?

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The steamer Alameda, which arrived from Australia and Honolulu, yesterday, brings information that the supreme court of Hawaii has decided that under the constitution of 1887 the king's right to veto is a personal one, and that he is not required to consult his cabinet in exercising that right.
